Dear Governor:

Community Energy, Inc. is fully committed to building sustainable energy markets in the United States. Community Energy, Inc. – a wholly-owned subsidiary of Iberdrola Renewable Energies USA -- headquartered in Radnor, PA, has led the nation in financing new wind projects through the marketing of voluntary renewable energy credits and is committed to the mid-Atlantic as one of its key markets for further wind development.

Community Energy, Inc. recognizes that public policy which encourages renewable energy is essential to securing our energy future. Renewable energy means economic development, environmental improvement, and energy security. As such, Community Energy, Inc. supports the Sustainable Energy Utility's Renewable Portfolio Standard Model Legislation. Delaware has been a national leader in promoting renewable energy. By adopting the provisions of the RPS Model Legislation, Delaware will join with other progressive states that have recently stepped-up their renewable targets in leading the way to a sustainable future.

In addition to the RPS Model Legislation, Community Energy, Inc. also supports the creation of the Sustainable Energy Utility. Delaware is uniquely situated to be a world leader in demonstrating the benefits of sustainable energy practices. As part of PJM East, new solutions to energy constraints, such as distributed generation, greater penetration of energy efficiency, and demand response will be necessary to avoid new investments in high voltage transmission or new power plants. The proposed Sustainable Energy Utility is well-positioned to lead Delaware in addressing these challenges and demonstrating a new approach to electricity demand constraints.

Delaware's continued leadership in adopting progressive energy policy will no doubt be noticed by many expanding and new alternative energy companies looking for marketplaces for their products and services.

Thank you for your time and consideration. We extend our assistance to your office in helping to further craft or refine any of these proposals.

Sincerely,

Eric Thumma
Director, Policy and Regulatory Affairs
